

LATIN/CLASSICS POSITION at PROOF SCHOOL

We invite applications for a full-time teaching position in Latin/Classics, to begin July 2018. The position features small classes, a low course load, and the opportunity to take part in the life of the school. Proof School is located in San Francisco and provides a liberal arts education for kids in grades six through twelve who love math.

ABOUT THE POSITION

The primary duties of the position include teaching two sections of Latin; developing an advanced elective based on the successful candidate's interests and the school's needs; and mentoring students. We seek an individual who can construct engaging classroom activities and play a significant role in the life of the school. Prior experience working with secondary school students, and an advanced degree are strongly preferred. (Applicants with little to no teaching experience should apply as teaching interns, under separate listing.) The school provides a generous benefits package with competitive salaries based on education and experience.

ABOUT THE SCHOOL

Proof School launched in 2015, and was founded on the premise that kids who love math would thrive in a community where they are surrounded by people who share that love. The school emphasizes analytical thinking, communication, and collaboration across the curriculum. Grading includes narrative reports that reflect on a student's academic achievement and disposition toward learning.
